

Successful projects start with InLoox

The smart project platform that provides transparency for all your projects

The smart project platform

Experience the power of the smart project platform

Your everyday work is full of challenges: Tasks, projects, collaboration, communication and much more need to be reconciled. InLoox bundles project and day-to-day business on a common platform and offers clear advantages right from the start:

Centralized & flexible project management

Manage your projects directly in your web browser. Through the common project platform, all users are always up to date.

Agile and classic project management

InLoox provides project managers with a comprehensive set of methods that can be used individually or in combination. For example, mind maps can be directly turned into Kanban boards or complete project plans in an intelligent, seamless workflow.

On-Premise or Cloud – You decide

We offer a ready-to-use platform with hosting in certified data centers in Germany with flexible runtimes starting from 1 month. InLoox can also be operated completely locally and isolated on your corporate IT.

Real-time KPIs and forecasting dashboards

Analyze individual projects, project groups or the entire portfolio at any time at the push of a button, using meaningful standard dashboards and reports. With InLoox, you recognize obstacles and react in time.

① Perfectly integrated in Microsoft 365

InLoox is accepted and practiced by everyone – “Advanced Integration” makes the difference. InLoox is at home wherever your users are already familiar with it – for example, in the inbox or the calendar. This facilitates the introduction in the company and improves both the acceptance and the data quality considerably.

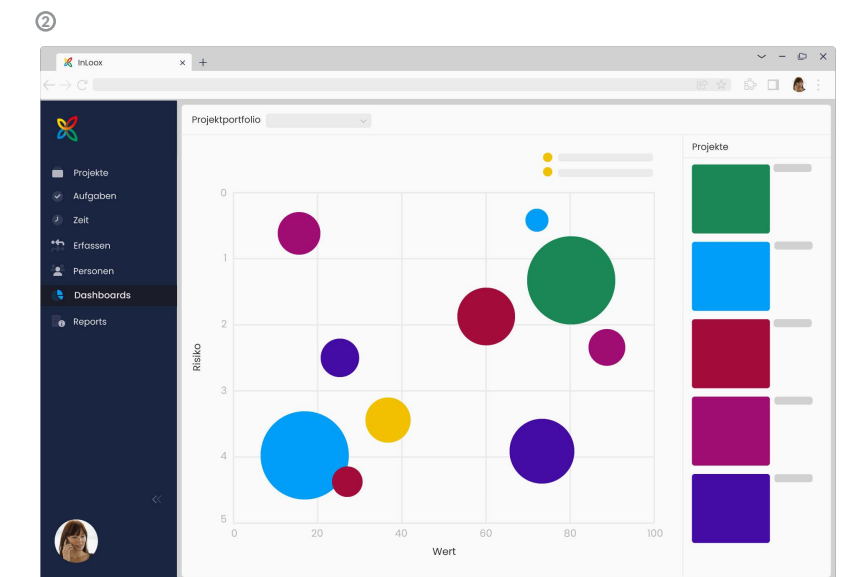

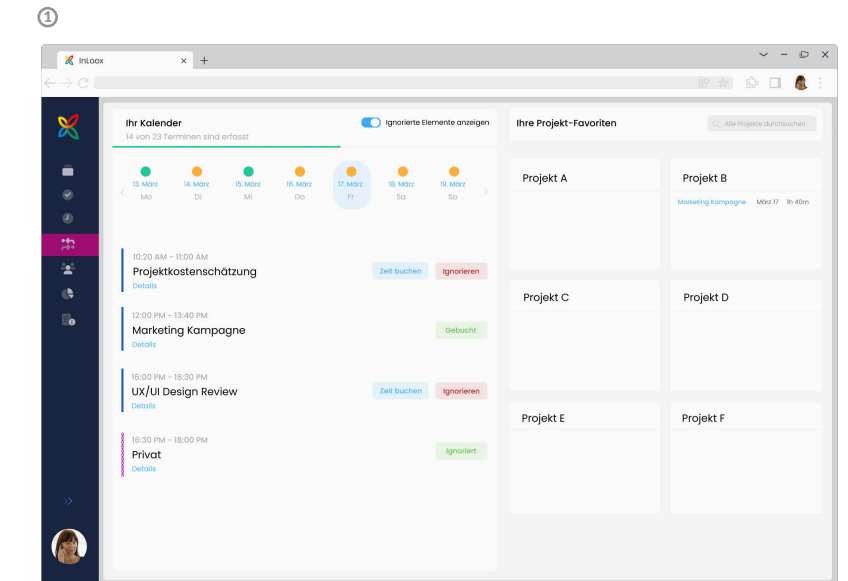

InLoox is e.g. integrated in:

② Manage the entire project life cycle

No matter if 100 or 100,000 projects – with InLoox, all information is clearly organized, provided in real time and controllable. InLoox combines projects, tasks and documents, budget and resource planning as well as time tracking on one platform.

③ Idea generation with the team

Collect and organize ideas and information about your projects visually. Concepts and drafts always remain visible. Content from mindmaps can then be easily transferred to time planning and task management. The result is a seamless planning process from brainstorming to implementation.

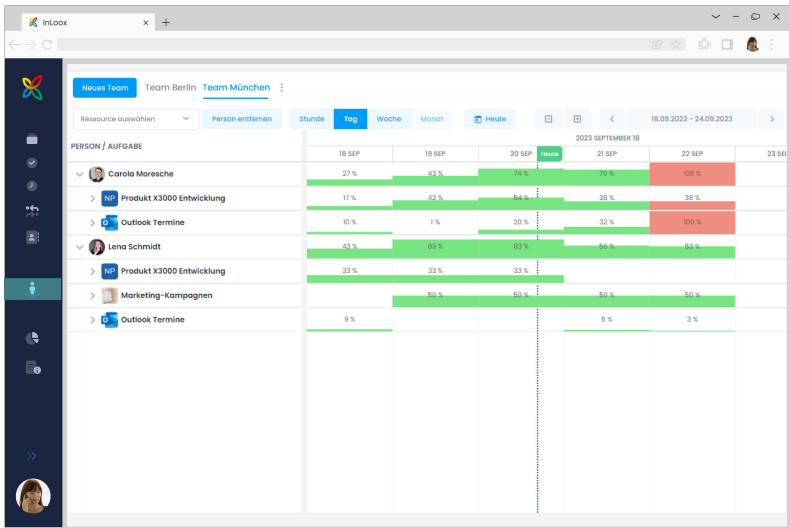

④ Collaboration on task boards

It's great when tasks and work steps are seamlessly connected. With InLoox, every team member knows what needs to be done by whom and when, and the progress of their colleagues. Link tasks to a project plan or use them completely independent of a project.

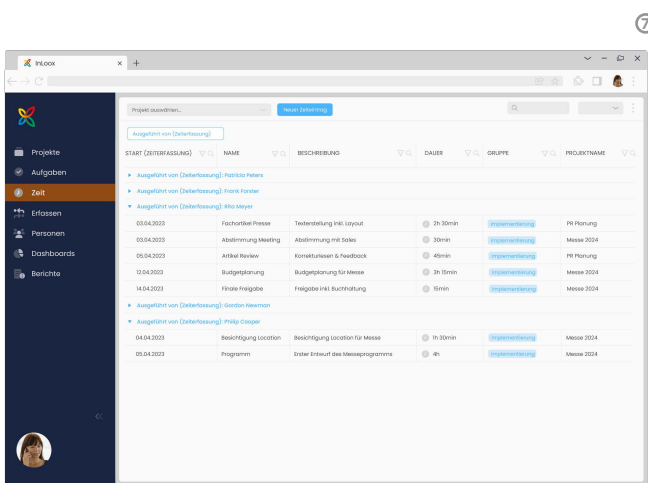

⑤ Reliable planning

How fast is your team progressing? Can the deadline be met? Gain a graphical overview of upcoming tasks, deadlines and the progress of your projects including dependencies and calendars. You benefit from project planning that is simple and yet leaves nothing to be desired.

⑥ Allocate resources effectively

The resource overview shows the workload of all your teams across projects. If desired, include the appointments from the Microsoft Outlook 365 calendars and see in real time which people still have free capacity. Tasks can be redistributed at the touch of a button to create a balanced workload for all resources.

⑦ Track times and learn

Effortlessly track times to finally gain visibility about how long projects and tasks were really worked on. Gain insights and act data-driven to improve estimates and project plans.
