④ Every project starts with the first task

There's nothing better than a smooth workflow. With InLoox, every team member knows exactly who has to do what and when, and what the progress of their colleagues is. Link tasks to a project plan or create project-independent tasks.

⑤ Reliable planning

How's your team doing? Can you meet the project deadline? Get a visual overview of pending tasks, appointments and overall project progress both in Microsoft Outlook and on the Web. Benefit from a project time planning that does it all and is easy-to-use at the same time.

⑥ Convenient document management

Most projects produce huge amounts of documents. InLoox brings order to the chaos, simplifies your document management and lets you link documents with projects or tasks. All documents are stored in one place and are accessible wherever you are.

⑦ Effective resource allocation

The resource overview shows the workload of departments, teams and individuals across projects. InLoox can also take into account appointments from Microsoft Exchange Server and see who has free capacities in real time. Reassign tasks with just one click to distribute workload evenly across all resources.
